Colour and grain

This product is a fumed product (ammonia treatment). The reaction on the wood which gives the darker colour is dependent on the tannin content of the wood (the more tannin the darker the result) The tannin content depends on the origin of the Oak but even trees from the same forest have a different tannin content.

So a fumed product always gives you more colour variation than a stain but the tone is far warmer, highlights character and helps bring nature in to your home. Flooring must be mixed well to achieve a balanced look.

Character

Due to the Low tannin content of sapwood "new growth of the tree" the reaction to ammonia treatment is unpredictable.

Variations within grades and Colour

Open, with longer rays than red oak. Occasional crotches, swirls and burls. Plain sawn boards have a plumed or flared grain appearance. Considerable variation among boards in colour and grain texture.
